

1. Main objectives:

1. To understand how simple and compound machines work.
2. To identify some machines which are useful to humans.
3. To be able to construct a simple and a compound machine.
4. To realise the advantages of new technologies in a Changing World.